BIBLIOGRAPHY OF AGRICULTURE

Vol. 27

January 1963

No. 1

The Bibliography of Agriculture is an index to the literature of agriculture and the allied sciences received in the National Agricultural Library. Publications from any country are indexed, provided they are in one of the languages of western Europe or in Russian, or have summaries or abstracts in one of those languages.

Literature from the United States and Canada received more than six months after publication (one year for literature received from other countries) is generally not indexed. Exceptions are made for important scientific publications.

Indexing of articles on the processing of agricultural products is limited to those on primary processing.

Unsigned articles and those signed with pseudonyms or initials, editorials, letters to the editor, and columns appearing regularly, are omitted.

FORMAT

The Bibliography is a classified arrangement of references under the following subjects:

- Plant Science
- Soils and Fertilizers
- Forestry
- Animal Industry
- Entomology
- Agricultural Engineering
- Agricultural Products
- Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology
- Food and Human Nutrition
- Miscellaneous

The classified section is followed by the listing of:

- New Periodicals and Serials
- Translations
- USDA Publications
- State Agricultural Experiment Station Publications
- State Agricultural Extension Service Publications
- Food and Agriculture Organization of the UN (FAO) Publications

The last section of each monthly issue, except November, is the author index for that issue.

(Af)	Afrikaans	(In)	Indonesian
(Al)	Albanian	(It)	Italian

Abbreviated names of the publications cited are those from USDA Miscellaneous Publication 765—List of Serials Currently Received in the Library of the United States Department of Agriculture, July 1, 1957.

Following each citation is the Library classification number which should be used when requesting loans or reproduction of articles.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF AGRICULTURE

Vol. 27

February 1963

No. 2

The Bibliography of Agriculture is an index to the literature of agriculture and the allied sciences received in the National Agricultural Library. Publications from any country are indexed, provided they are in one of the languages of western Europe or in Russian, or have summaries or abstracts in one of those languages.

Literature from the United States and Canada received more than six months after publication (one year for literature received from other countries) is generally not indexed. Exceptions are made for important scientific publications.

Indexing of articles on the processing of agricultural products is limited to those on primary processing.

Unsigned articles and those signed with pseudonyms or initials, editorials, letters to the editor, and columns appearing regularly, are omitted.

FORMAT

The Bibliography is a classified arrangement of references under the following subjects:

- Plant Science
- Soils and Fertilizers
- Forestry
- Animal Industry
- Entomology
- Agricultural Engineering
- Agricultural Products
- Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology
- Food and Human Nutrition
- Miscellaneous

The classified section is followed by the listing of:

- New Periodicals and Serials
- Translations
- USDA Publications
- State Agricultural Experiment Station Publications
- State Agricultural Extension Service Publications
- Food and Agriculture Organization of the UN (FAO) Publications

The last section of each monthly issue, except November, is the author index for that issue.

CORRECTION

Item 80700, on page 108 of the October 1962 Bibliography of Agriculture, refers to National Churken Association. The name is repeated also in the December 1962 Index on pages 236 and 623.

"National Churken Association" has never existed and does not now exist. We regret the error.
